

Interjections are words or phrases that express emotions of surprise, joy, anger, greeting, approval, attention, sorrow or similar things.

Some of the words used as interjections are:

Oops, ouch, wow, hey, well, ahem, hooray, great, sigh, alas, cheers, exactly, bravo, well done, listen etc.

Interjections can be punctuated using a comma, exclamation mark or a question mark

Example:- Listen,
Wow!
Oh really?

Underline the interjections in the following sentences.

1. Ouch! I was bit by a mosquito
2. Hey, give that to me.
3. Why can't you wake up on time, huh?
4. Hi, I'm happy you came home.
5. Wow! You look awesome in this dress.
6. Careful, the lion is famished!
7. Yes, I will have a coffee please.
8. Whew, that was very close.
9. Wow! That was quick!
10. "Shoo!" shouted the old man when he saw monkeys plucking the mangoes.
11. Stop! There is a pit ahead on the road.
12. Yippee, I got all my answers right in the test.
13. That was a great knock, Bravo!